Each student contract is meant for admission to one course only and individual student contracts will be entered with each student admitted into the course offered.

If any amendment is made which will change the original intent of the student contract, both the student and WAI must sign beside the amendment(s) on both sets of the original student contracts.

All fields must be completed in the student contract. Where it is not applicable, it must be indicated with "not applicable or N/A".

Students are given a 7 working day cooling off period from the date of signing the contract, whereby should they decide to withdraw from the course, they will be refunded the highest percentage stated in Schedule D.

A sample of the Standard PEI-Student Contract used by the Institute can be found on CPE's website.

If a student wishes to repeat a module, a new student contract (or addendum) has to be issued.

Information on Fee Protection Scheme

The Fee Protection Scheme (FPS) serves to protect the students' fees in the event a Private Education Institution (PEI) is unable to continue operations due to insolvency, and/or regulatory closure.

FPS is compulsory for both local and international students taking courses unless a waiver is granted by CPE.

The following are ways for students to be ensured that their fees are well-protected.

Wellbeing and Counselling Services

This section contains essential information for William Angliss Institute students including services offered.

It also provides information regarding enrolment, fees, assessment, appeals and complaints procedures, attendance, articulation and other Institute policies.

A

Ambulance

If an ambulance is required, students should contact a staff member.

Assessment Regulations

Students are requested to be on time for assessment. If you cancel or do not attend your allocated assessment time and you do not present a doctors certificate you will be charged a re-sit fee payable to student services prior to scheduling another assessment time.

Assessment

See also Assessment Resubmission, and Special Consideration.

Students will receive a Unit Outline during the first class of each unit. The Unit Outline states the elements of competency, forms of assessment, dates of assessment and the standards on which competency is assessed.

In industry and in vocational education, competencies are the basis for measuring performance. Students are required to demonstrate competence in specified levels of performance in each unit they study. Assessment of students may be undertaken in a variety of ways, such as formal or informal tests, assignments, practical demonstrations, project work, written or oral reports, simulation, third party reports and observation within the classroom or workplace.

The use of electronic linguistic dictionaries, mobile phones and calculators are not permitted in assessment situations. Generally students can only take pens, pencils and paper based dictionaries into tests and exams – unless otherwise specified in the subject outline or by the trainer.

For all assessment tasks, students will be given more than one opportunity to demonstrate competence. Where students are assessed for group activities it is important they attend classes designated for work on group projects. If a student does not participate in the group work they may jeopardise their grade for that assessment. When students are assessed in a group it is each member's responsibility to:

- Solve any problems within a group
- Select group members, unless directed into groups by their trainer
- Maintain a log book which details group members' contributions and set tasks
- If required, provide minutes of industry visits and/or meetings held in and out of class time.

Assessment Procedures

Only students from William Angliss Institute, who have been duly registered for the respective assessment will be permitted to enter the assessment / test room. William Angliss reserves the right to deny any student permission to sit for an assessment if there are still outstanding fees owed by the student prior to the examinations. William Angliss reserves the right to deny any student permission to sit for an assessment if the student did not achieve the minimum requirement of either 75% for local students and or 90% for International Students in either theory or practical.

All students must produce their NRIC or other form of photo identification that is a recognised government authorised identification card for local or International students. Students who are unable to produce their NRIC or Singapore Government authorised Identification Card will NOT be allowed to sit for their assessment.

A student who is absent from assessment may have a medical certificate to sit for re-assessment

Late appeals will not be entertained unless the student was:

- Away from Singapore; or
- Hospitalised or on medical leave; or
- On full-time National Service / NS-men Training.

Barring of students from assessment will require the student being notified in writing at least one day before the assessment.

A student barred from assessment due late payment of fees must make full payment of the amount outstanding.

A student barred from assessment due poor attendance must undertake make-up classes for all lessons missed.

Assessment Resubmission

See also Assessment and Special Consideration.

Students who do not achieve competency on their first attempt will be given a second attempt to achieve competency within that training period. They must complete the re-assessment within 6 weeks of the first attempt of that assessment task.

Students who have not achieved competency in a unit within the training/re -assessment period must re-enrol in the following teaching period.

Students, who are required to re-enrol in a unit which they have previously not been successful in completing, are required to pay an additional tuition fee. Student Services will inform students of the appropriate fee.

Attendance

See also Lateness.

All students must be in attendance for the first class of each unit and attend all subsequent classes until the assessment has been completed, including re-assessments, unless otherwise advised. This is in keeping with industry expectations and prepares you for the workplace.

Individual trainers will outline their expectations, not only as an aid to learning but also because it helps develop team-work in class.

In the event of illness, it is a must for students to submit a medical certificate. Students must provide a medical certificate if absent during assessment.

Average Trainer-Student ratio

1 Trainer to a maximum of 20 Students.

B

Banks

Automatic Teller Machines (ATM) for UOB, Citibank & DBS are located at Centre Point Singapore and along Orchard Road near Cuppage Terrace.

C

Cheating, Plagiarism and Collusion

Copying another's work without acknowledgement and other forms of cheating are viewed seriously. Students at the Institute are expected to uphold academic integrity and avoid plagiarism.

The way students present ideas and information in assessments must be totally their own. Plagiarism occurs when someone submits work that was written by someone else and claims it as their own. Collusion occurs when two people or more work together on an assignment/assessment which is supposed to be done individually.

It is considered to be plagiarism if a student uses material found in a text or online, without referencing the source in the body of the text, or uses the work of another student or friend.

As the relevant test or assignment will not be assessed, the student is considered not to have completed the unit requirements. A 'not yet competent (NYC)' result will be recorded and re-enrolment will be required.

Students found to have cheated, colluded or plagiarised during assessment will be noted with the Centre Director and Programme Officer and immediately placed on probation.

If a second incident of cheating, colluding or plagiarising is proven then the student concerned will face expulsion from the course.

Computer Access

Students have access to computers in the SMART room and can access a variety of applications via the desktop. Computers in the SMART Room are intended for educational purposes. Computer use in the SMART room may be monitored and the following will not be permitted at any time:

- Playing peer to peer games
- SM/text programs
- Downloading games, music or video
- Skype or similar video-conferencing

Contact Details Variation

To ensure prompt communication with students it is essential that records are kept up to date, especially addresses and phone numbers. William Angliss Institute communicates with students through mail-outs, SMS, and telephone calls. Students must ensure their personal details are correct by contacting their Student Services when changes occur.

Criteria for the award of Certificates / Diplomas

Only students who meet the criteria for their course of study will be conferred the appropriate Certificate / Diploma. Students will be notified of the criteria of award at the beginning of their course of studies.

Certificates / Diplomas will be awarded to students, who have successfully completed all graduation requirements of the course, during the annual graduation ceremony.

Prior to the graduation event, students may request for a Letter of Attestation on their course completion from the Student Services. All assessment enquiries are to be made by contacting reception or calling the Student Services on 6637 9855.

Information about emergency evacuation is available on Fire and Evacuation Plans which are posted in prominent locations throughout the Institute.

The Institute has policies and procedures for dealing with discrimination and sexual harassment, and will ensure that any complaints are dealt with promptly and effectively. Students who have enquiries or complaints relating to equal opportunity, discrimination or sexual harassment should contact a Student Services Executive.

Evaluation Surveys and Student Feedback

During the last lesson for each unit students will be asked to complete a unit evaluation to gather views on teaching, training, resources and facilities. Collecting this data is an important component of SSG requirements for continuous improvement and informs on the way in which resources are used to achieve best possible outcomes.

Excursions, Field Trips Site Visits and Study Tours

Many subjects require participation in site visits, field trips and excursions to enhance your learning experiences. Students are required to sign indemnity and medical declarations at the commencement of their course. The indemnity declaration includes a list of obligations of students who participate in excursions, field trips or site visits as part of the teaching program.

The Institute conducts a graduation and award ceremony each year for students completing WSQ/AQF certified courses:

All students in their final stage of study for the above courses will automatically receive an invitation to the Ceremony. Students wishing to attend will need to check and ensure that they have completed all of the course requirements before applying to graduate. You will be notified about Graduation Ceremony dates.

As WAI has no involvement with the issuing of WSQ certificates (this is done by SSG) there may be the possibility that on the Graduation date you may already have received your certificate or it may not yet have arrived.

In these cases, WAI will present you with a Letter of Completion in keeping with the Graduation formality.
